

From: deerparkneighbors@comcast.net
Subject: Last night and Saturday
Date: April 5, 2007 1:53:00 PM CDT

LAST NIGHT AT THE LZ CHAMBER FORUM was the best I have seen from all the candidates. All seven candidates were articulate, very good discussions and great questions from the floor. But only eight people were in the audience, either spouses or close friends. The turnout was appalling.

ON SATURDAY, 2-5 pm, Deer Park Neighbors (DPN) will be at the Barrington Library to answer residents' questions. This is NOT going to be another forum. Frankly we don't feel it's fair to ask the candidates to tie up three more hours when you all have not turned out for two previous events.

We did promise to have a forum on our own, however we underestimated the amount of time not just from us but from all seven candidates. Therefore, we are asking all seven candidates to give us their opening and closing remarks from last night, which were excellent. We'll post these on our web site. We hope all will participate in this request.

You can review the candidates' other literature at <http://deerparkneighbors.com>. We have asked for contact information from all candidates, and will post as soon as we get that.

But Saturday, the questions are from you about the village. We will use the approved village minutes and the DVDs made over the last year by DPN at the village meetings. If we cannot find your answer on the spot, we'll get back to you before the election.

We know it's a busy weekend with Easter, but if you're going to be at the Library or nearby for errands, at least stop in and say hello. We will have a supply of lime green ribbons. Ribbons will be free while supplies last.

Some people have been a bit uptight about the "meaning" of the ribbons. All they signify is that individuals in Deer Park have a voice to be heard.

Happy Passover and Joyous Easter to all our good neighbors.